NEW COUNCIL ORGANIZES

Members Holding Over and New Members Meet at Noon Today

MR. BROCKETT RESIGNS

F. F. Marbury to Preside in Aldermen and Howard W. Smith in the Common Council.

The new City Council was organized at noon today. F. F. Marbury, a former member of the body from the Second ward, and for some time President, recently elected member from the First ward, was chosen President of the Board of Aldermen, succeeding Henry K. Field, who is now a member of the Common Council, from the Second ward, Howard W. Smith, succeeded himself as President of the Common Council. Luther H. Thompson, was re-elected Clerk of the Board of Aldermen, and Daniel R. Stansbury, clerk of the Common Council. Leonard Cheshire was re-elected Messenger of the Aldermen, and William Craven of the Common Council.

After the reorganization of the two boards, Thomas A. Fisher, who succeeds himself as Mayor, was formally inaugurated at a joint session of the two boards.

As is usual on the first day, few miscellaneous matters were brought up.

Board of Aldermen.

The personnel of the upper board is now as follows: Messrs. Jacob Brill of the First ward, George Robinson of the Second ward, Maurice Wilkins of the Third ward, and C. J. W. Summers, of the Fourth ward, who hold over two years. Messrs. F. F. Marbury of the First, W. W. Ballenger of the Second, John T. Harrison of the Third, and J. B. Fitzgerald of the Fourth, are the newly-elected members.

The clerk called the board to order at noon and stated that the first business in order would be the election of a President.

Mr. Brill nominated F. F. Marbury, and he was elected by a unanimous vote. He was sworn in by Justice Thompson, after which the latter administered the oath of office to the new members.

Mr. Brill was elected vice President and he also received the unanimous vote of the board, his competitor, Mr. Ballenger making a motion to that effect.

Messrs. Marbury and Brill thanked the members for the courtesy and reliance placed in them.

Luther H. Thompson was subsequently re-elected clerk, as was also Leonard Cheshire messenger.

The board later proceeded to the chamber of the Common Council for the purpose of witnessing the inauguration of Mayor-elect Fisher, and upon their return adjourned.

Common Council.

Daniel R. Stansbury, clerk, called the councilmen to order at 12:10. Louis N. Duffey attorney, administered the oath of office to the eight newly elected members of common council, Howard W. Smith and George H. Evans, from the first ward, Jerome Kaufmann, and Henry K. Field, second, A. J. Pohl and Harry R. Burke, third, and Albert Bryan and Clinton S. Ballenger, fourth.

Mr. Burke, nominated Mr. Smith for president. The motion was seconed by Mr. Bales, whereupon Mr. Desmond moved that the nominations be closed.

Mr. Smith was unanimously re-elected.

Captain Bryan was nominated for vice-president and was re-elected, as was also Daniel R. Stansbury, clerk, and William L. Craven, messenger.

A communication was received from Councilman Brockett of the third ward, resigning as a member of the board. Mr. Brockett's resignation was promptly accepted.

Mr. Field introduced a resolution granting to the Masonic committee the right to use the armory from October 9th to the 21st for the joint masonic bazaar to be held for the benefit of the fund for the erection of the Washington Memorial. The resolution was adopted, Mr. Field asking early action on the part of council.

A paper was received from the board of aldermen regarding request of Charles Whitman to make repairs at his home at 324 south Alfred street, and the action of the higher branch was concurred in.

Mr. Burke then moved that the aldermen be invited to the joint session for the purpose of inaugurating the mayor-elect, Thomas A. Fisher, and the aldermen immediately responded; whereupon Mr. Marbury, who had been elected president of the aldermen, appointed a committee consisting of Alderman Harrison, and Councilman Bryan and Smith to escort and receive the mayor into the chamber, where Luther H. Thompson, as justice of the peace, swore him in. Mayor Fisher then delivered his inaugural address as follows:

Gentlemen of the City Council and my Fellow Citizens:

In conformity to a custom—not so far as I know as a requirement of law—my presence here, upon your invitation, is for the purpose, in your presence, to publicly assume the duties of Mayor of our city for a new term by taking the usual oath of office. Custom has also been an excuse for those selected by the votes of a people to the office of Mayor to make an address or speech upon similar occasions. I am far from being convinced of the propriety of resorting to this custom as an excuse or precedent for detaining you today, and only do so to emphasize, if I can, face to face and from my own mouth, by words, a matter or work in which I have enlisted and in which I feel a great interest, namely, the poor house, in which are housed the unfortunate and the public cemetery, which we term Penny Hill.

On March 22nd, 1915, I made conditions at the Poor House the subject matter of a letter to the City Council in which reference was made to liberal appropriations for school houses, fire engine houses, streets, annexation and other responsibilities, etc., and concluded with these words: "As to some uncertainty as to our financial policy, yet that will not deter me from insisting upon the matter of this communication receiving a full and fair consideration, and not pushed aside for something less urgent." That I failed to follow this intimation of what was much desired, indeed necessary, was not that my interest had lessened, but for the reason that I knew the financial problems that were being considered and in a personal way, thought it in bad taste to further urge the matter should I conclude to contest for the office with which my fellow-citizens have twice honored me. The Poor House should not be allowed to fall into further decay; it should be well repaired and not further patched. Its usefulness as a work house should be considered, as we have a large jail. At the next regular meeting I shall, through your Presidents, submit a letter from the state authorities relative to these matters. I ask early action. If we have money to appropriate for many charities which have sprung up in late years we have money for a proper house for the poor and improvements at Penny Hill. I have alluded to these matters to-day because with the hope that results will follow. I am now ready to subscribe to the usual oath of office.

The joint session was dissolved at 12:35 and directly after the common council adjourned to meet Tuesday night, September 12, when committee appointments will be made.

CASE PUT UP TO CONGRESS

Immediate Passage of Eight Hour Day Law is Necessary

WILL RUSH MEASURE

Bill Meeting Trainmen's Demand May Be Enacted by Senate and House Today.

Washington, Sept. 1—If Congress can pass an eight-hour law before next Saturday night at midnight there will be no railway strike. President Wilson and the Administration leaders in both houses are bending every energy to bring about the passage of this law.

Late yesterday afternoon, just before the Senate adjourned, it was learned that the railroad brotherhoods, through A. B. Garretson, had agreed to accept the Adamson bill as a basis for calling off the strike that was set for next Monday.

The Adamson bill would provide for an eight-hour day at the present 10-hour day pay, effective next December 1. Employes would be given the prorata rate for overtime. A commission of three to be appointed by the President would report to him and Congress in not less than six nor more than nine months the effect of the eight-hour day. Expenses would be paid by a Federal appropriation of $25,000.

The measure was introduced immediately by Representative Adamson with a view to having it passed and sent to the Senate today. House leaders agreed upon a rule providing for a vote on the bill in the House not later than 4:30 p. m. today.

The Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate will at once prepare a similar measure and it will be introduced in the Senate today. In terms it may be identical with the House bill.

For the purpose of expediting the measure through the Senate, that body will meen at 10 o'clock this morning and begin consideration of the measure immediately. If passed before adjournment, the measures could be sent to a conference committee to night or Saturday morning and any differences in them reconciled within an hour or two. If the two bills are identical, one house or the other could concur and the bill sent at once to the President without further formality.

Oyster season now opened at the Rammel Cafe.

SHOE STORE ROBBED

Several Pairs Taken From Jos. Heymel's Store on North Royal Street Last Night

The shoe store on Royal street, between King and Cameron, owned by Joesph Heymel, was entered by burglars between 11:30 o'clock last night and 6:30 o'clock this morning, and several pairs of shoes were stolen. It is not known how many pairs were taken yet, but the owner has at least four pairs already unaccounted for.

Numbers of pairs on display in the show windows were taken out and dumped on the floor by the men during their plundering, it being thought by Heymel that the burglars left them there when scared off by Mrs. Heymel, who Heymel told a representative of the Gazette this morning got up in the night and moved around upstairs unconcious, however, that anything out of the ordinary was taking place below.

RAILROADS WILL RESIST

Heads Hold That Adamson Bill Exceeds Power of Congress

WON'T CLOSE TROUBLE

Unorganized Railroad Employees put in a Plea for Inclusion in Benefits of New Law

Chicago, Sept. 1—Passage by Congress of the Adamson Compromise Eight-Hour bill probably would postpone the trainmen's strike, but it would not settle the matter, presidents of three Western railroads declare.

Furthermore, such legislation would be far from satisfactory to the railroads, they said.

"The railroads would take no precipitate action in the event the bill were passed," said Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. who was spokesman for the railway managers at their recent conference with President Wilson. "But we certainly will not allow an illegal law to stand if we can help it.

"It is my understanding that the Supreme Court of the United States has held recently in two cases that the Congress of the United States has absolutely no power to fix wages. That what the Adamson bill amounts to, according to my understanding. If it is passed it would only postpone the issue."

Similar sentiments were epxesered by E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and President H. R. Kurrie of the Mopon.

If the men accept the Adamson compromise its effect will probably be that of postponing the strike," said President Ripley, "but it will not settle the matter. Such a measure might well be satisfactory to the men, inasmuch as it gives them what they are seeking—an eight-hour day with 10 hours' pay. It is not satisfactory to the railroads. Congress has no right to pass such a measure."

Marvin Hughitt, Jr., vice-president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, said that in the event of a strike his road had received such assurances of loyalty from trainmen as to justify the prediction that passenger service would be maintained practically unimpaired. E. D. Suwall, vice-president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, said that his road had assurances from its men which justified a statement that the road would be able to care for the real necessities of the public.

It was reported that others of the 23 roads centering in Chicago felt that enforcement of the strike order would fail to cripple them seriously.

TO SHOOT AIRMEN ON SIGHT

Canada Gives Orders to Fire on Machines Crossing Border.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 1. — Orders were received Wednesday by the Welland Canal guard patrolling this district to fire on airmen venturing over the inter-national boundary. The order comes as the result of two flights made last week by Aviator Phil Raider, of the Curtiss school of Buffalo, who, after spiraling over the falls, circled over Canadian territory. On one of these flights Raider carried Miss Norma Mack, daughter of Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, as a passenger. There is not a gun of the anti-aircraft type in this district, but several will be sent from Toronto headquarters immediately, it is said.

Seamen on the Great Lakes will not become involved in the railroad strike, if called, according to Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's Union.

CONDITIONS IN THE BALKANS

Roumania Forging Ahead to Form Junction With Russians

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Roumania severed diplomatic relations with Bulgaria at 6:30 last night, according to a dispatch received by the Bulgarian legation today.

London, Sept. 1—A Reuter's dispatch from Saloniki today said an unconfirmed report had been received from Athens that King Constantine had abdicated his throne and that the crown prince had been appointed regent.

General mobilization of the Greek army has been ordered, the report said, and ex-Premier Venizelos, leader of the pro-ally war party, is supporting the Zaimis ministry.

The prompt entry of Greece into the war on the side of the allies is now being freely predicted as a certainty.

London, Sept. 1—The speedy entrance of Greece into the war, possibly within the next twenty-four hours is predicted in dispatches from Athens.

Long before the Greek elections, which are scheduled for October 8, the army will have been mobilized and fighting under the flag of the entente allies, it is doclared.

King Constantine, under close guard in his palace, is believed to have played his last card to keep the nation out of the war.

Details of a conference between the monarch and the entente ministers French, Russian and British, are eagerly awaited.

All news from Athens has been delayed from twenty-four to forty-eight hours for the last two weeks, and late last night no intimation of the result of this probably historic conference had reached here.

The Greek army is preparing for active service.

All staff officers on leave have been recalled and a general mobilization is expected at any moment.

The Greek legation here denies sensational reports sent out from Saloniki that the king had fled to Larisa to seek protection under a German Uhlan guard, and that fighting between allied and Greek troops was going on around his summer home near Athens.

Amsterdam, Sept. 1—The Roumanian minister at Sofia, says a Berlin dispatch, asked for his passports Wednesday evening, thus severing diplo- and Bulgaria.

The union meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which was to have been held in Richmond September 4, has been postponed on account of strike conditions.

HASTY PLANS FOR SERVICE

Loyal Employees Will Operate Trains in Old Dominion

MAY AVERT A STRIKE

R., F. and P. and C. and O. Office Forces Assure Management of Their Undivided Support

Richmond, Sept. 1—Tentative schedules and plans for operating as many trains as possible immediately after the strike is placed in effect Monday morning, in the event that all efforts to stay it are unavailing, were being worked out yesterday by Richmond railroad officials. With embargoes declared against freight as a preliminary protection to the railroad and the public, and passengers warned to reach their destinations not later than Sunday night to avoid probable delays and inconveniences, local officials bent their efforts towards devising a provisional transportation system manned by such employees as may stand by the roads.

Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad headquarters officials made the statement late yesterday that their trains would continue in service. A sufficient number of men, within and without the brotherhoods, they said, had assured the management that they will not walk out to make possible the operation of trains between this city and Washington. While admitting that service might be curtailed, they were unusually well prepared, they said, to handle the situation.

Officers of this road said that they would be able to handle quantities of important perishable freight, such as foodstuffs, indicating that there was no need to be unduly alarmed about the food supply. The road expected no trouble in handling the mails, or in maintaining a reasonable passenger service.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway was likewise making plans for the operation of its trains, and conferences between operating heads were continued late into the night. Both roads, it was learned, will depend in a large measure on their shop employees to operate the locomotives and for the other mechanical work. From the men in the general offices, especially in the transportation departments, will be selected many to act in the capacity of conductors and trainmen. Officials of both roads were authority for the statement that many of the men in the general offices would make equally as good running crews as some now employed in that capacity. The railroads are also depending on many members of the brotherhoods who are expected to remain at their positions.

Five railroads and one steamship company entering Richmond have declared embargoes, more or less stringent, against freight and passengers, effective at various times before Monday morning at 7 o'clock. Those that issued orders yesterday against the acceptance of freight were the Southern, the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Seaboard Air Line and the Old Dominion Steamship Company. The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac and the Norfolk and Western Railroads declared embargoes Wednesday.

The Atlantic Coast Line issued a statement last night warning passengers that, effective to-day, all tickets will be sold and baggage checked subject to delay and detention. No instructions as to freight movements had been received by local officials, but such orders, they said, might be expected today.

Beans she held in her mouth lodged in the windpipe of Anna May Dietz, 3 years old, of York, Pa., when she fell yesterday and caused her death. It is said all the beans, which the child was using with a tin blower were removed from the windpipe except one, which caused internal hemorrhages.

The Rammel Cafe have now ready to serve, delicious oysters.

BLAZE IN THE COUNTY

Frame Residence at Mount Ida Destroyed at an Early Hour This Morning.

Fire about five o'clock this morning destroyed completely the two-story frame residence of W. F. Becker, at Mount Ida, after efforts had been made by neighboring citizens to extinguish the blaze. No insurance was carried on the property.

Shortly before five o'clock this morning citizens of the village telephoned an Alexandrian for aid, and were referred to Mayor Fisher. The Mayor was unable to order the Alexandria fire department out, owing to the fact that there were no fire plugs in Mount Ida or the near vicinity.

It is stated that Br. Beckerr could have saved a part at least of the contents and furniture of his home, including a sum of money, but directly after hastening his family out of the burning dwelling, his only thought was the rescue of the sacred vesseis of St. Rita's Catholic Church, in Mt. Ida, which are stored in his home until accomodations can be provided in the chapel.

Between three and four o'clock this morning many people were awakened by a piercing whip-o'will whistle, supposed at the time to have emanated from the new motor truck engine. There was a rush for windows, but no light was in the skies, nor did the new apparatus appear on the streets. It was later suggested that the whistle was sounded from the Southern Railway depot, one having been placed there with which to sound fire alarms. The cause of the whistling could not be learned.

A TEMPTING REPAST.

The oyster season opened today, and the Rammel Cafe has been kept busy filling orders. About lunch time specimens of the fried and stewed bivalves as served at this hostelry were sent to this office. The dish was seasonable and inviting, and were greatly relished. Rammel's reputation for preparing oysters in any style was established many years ago, and it is by no means confined to Alexandria. Visitors to this city during the fall and winter months regard an oyster dinner at Rammel's as do Englishmen a white bait dinner when they spend a day in London.

BOAT CLUB PRACTICES

Old Dominions Go Over Course on Potomac Preparatory to Regatta.

Old Dominion Boat Club's crew that has been selected to participate in the junior quadruple sculls put in an appearance on the river at Washington yesterday afternoon, making a trial spin over the course laid out for the races of the big Middle States regatta. The local club, together with the Columbia Athletic Club, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was the first to make appearance in Washington of the out-of-town clubs that will compete in the regatta Labor Day.

Sport reporters for the capital city newspapers regard the Old Dominions as likely contenders and state that they showed a great deal of class yesterday afternoon.

It is expected that large delegations of friends will leave with the Old Dominions Labor Day for the regatta. In the junior quadruple sculls the Alexandria crew, which is composed of Roland Gaines, bow, John L. Curtin, 2, Francis L. Summers, 3, and James W. Roberts, jr., stroke, will be pitted against the Malta Boat Club, of Philadelphia, and the Potomac Boat Club, of Washington.

Carl J. Mueller is coaching the Old Dominion crew.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.

Will Re-Open Next Tuesday for the School Year

On Tuesday next, September 5th, St. Mary's Academy will re-open for the new scholastic year. Parents are earnestly urged to send their children for the opening of the season. A compliance with this request will prove most helpful to pupils in the year's work before them. Most of the teachers at St. Mary's spent their vacation at the Mother House in Indiana, attending Summer School, as all progressive teachers must do these days to keep abreast of the times and educational methods.

A French course is to be added to St. Mary's Curiculum this year to meet the wish of many patrons. Sister Immeculee, recently of Holy Cross Academy, Washington, D. C., has been transferred to the High School department of St. Mary's. The Commercial department will be in charge of Sister M. Augusta; Sister Dionysia will be in charge of 5th and 6th grade work; Sister M. Osmana, lately in duty in Los Angeles, California, has been returned to St. Mary's to take charge of the Primary department; Sister M. Agnella, who has taught for the past twelve years at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana, is in charge of the vocal department.

The courses in academic and grade work, in piano, violin, expression, rhythm, physical culture and athletics are in charge of last year's very able and enthusiastic teachers.

The whole building during the summer months has been improved and renovated, and all bids fair for a very successful year's work at St. Mary's.

WILL ISSUE PERMITS

Clerk of City School Board Will be at Armory Hall Next Tuesday Morning

Issuing of permits for entrance to the public schools will begin Tuesday, at the Armory, under the direction of Harry D. Kirk, clerk of the city school board, and will continue during the week. For the first three days, Mr. Kirk will issue permits to white children east of Hooff's run, to attend the Washington and Lee grammar schools, and the Alexandria High School, and Friday, September 8, to colored children. On Saturday children living west of Hooff's run may secure permits to attend the local schools.

Examinations for entrance to the different grammar grades and the classes of the Alexandria High School have been announced by Superintendent Sweeney, according to yesterday's Gazette, and the public schools will reopen Monday, Sept. 11.

Practically the same corps of teachers as was in force at the last session of the schools will be in charge again this fall, only a few new instructors having been elected by the school board for the lower schools. Owing to the absence of Conrad Johnson, principal of the high school, who is in command of the Alexandria Light Infantry, at Brownsville, Texas, however, Stanley G. Blanton, vice-principal, will act as principal until Captain Johnson's return.

A commercial department will be installed in the curriculum of the high school this fall, C. E. Bandy to be head of the same. The only other new teacher for the high school faculty is H. C. Nolley, of Bedford City, who has recently been a teacher at the Randolph-Macon Academy, at Front Royal, and who takes the place of J. Douglas McLean in the vocal school, McLean, who is a lieutenant in the Light Infantry at Brownsville, having refused to serve as a teacher, at the salary offered him by the board.

It is possible, however, that the school board, at its next regular meeting, which will be held next week, will elect an additional substitute teacher to teach in the high school, owing to the absence of Captain Johnson, which leaves the school with nine teachers, including the instructor of the business department, when there should be ten all told.

Following will be the faculty for the Alexandria High School the following session: Stanley G. Blanton, principal pro tem, C. T. Ryan, Miss Croes Ficklin, Miss Mary E. Bontz, Paul S. Gilliam, J. H. Summers, H. C. Nolley, C. E. Bandy, and Colonel T. H. Ficklin. This makes no provision, however, for the return of Principal Johnson, as it is not known definitely when the National Guard of Virginia will be ordered home.

ALEXANDRIA'S EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Will open at 7:45 Sunday evening, Sept. 3d, under the direction of Gypsy Smith Jr., the noted Evangelist of Haddon Heights, N. J.

Services will be held every night each week, excepting Monday, continuing until Oct. 2d, in a large tent with a seating capacity of 2,000 located on upper King Street, between West and Peyton Streets, on the site of the old fairgrounds.

Evangelist Smith is a direct, forcible speaker and it is earnestly hoped that every resident of Alexandria will arrange to attend the meetings and hear him.

The services will be of an entirely undenominational character, the campaign having the hearty endorsement of practically all the various churches in the city.

The singing will be a feature of the services, the evangelist bringing with him his own chorister and pianist.

Don't forget the time or place. Arrange your affairs so that you may attend each meeting.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT

The new City Council organized at noon today, in the City Hall. While we use the word new, it is virtually a perpetuation of the former regime of the old city fathers, the great majority of the good people of Alexandria having no reason for relegating them to the background for the purpose of making political experiments. The Mayor was inaugurated at the joint meeting of the two boards. His is by no means a new face either, Hon. Thomas A. Fisher having finished a four-years' term today. As was the case with most of the Councilmen, he succeeds himself.

There is but one new member of the Board of Aldermen — former Councilman John T. Harrison—but he has been for over a score of years, a familiar figure among the city fathers. F. F. Marbury, Aldermen from the First ward, was transferred from the lower to the upper board. He was for years an Alderman from the Second ward and President of the board, Henry K. Field, long an Alderman from the Third ward, during which time he served as chairman of the finance committee and for several years President of the board, recently removed his residence to the Second ward, and was forwith elected a member of the Common Council from that ward.

George H. Evans, member of the Common Council from the First ward, and Jerome Kauffmann from the Second, are the only new members.

The policies and aims of the new Council will be on lines marked out by their predecessors, and the harmony which has heretofore existed is evidence that their future deliberations will be upon lines which are not calculated to produce any serious variances.

THE ONE GREAT ISSUE.

It is just as true now as it was last year, when The New York Tribune first said it, that,

"It would be better for the Republican party to indorse Woodrow Wilson in 1916 than to permit the principle to be established that to defend American interests is to commit political suicide."

The Tribune reaffirmed that a week after Mr. Hughes was nominated, and it was still true, and it is true today. It would be better for any party to disband and join the opposition than to establish the principle that to defend American interest is to commit political suicide.

As is suggested by a contemporary, the main issue is not the tariff; even the Republicans care little about that at present. It is not the Mexican difficulties, which are now in a fair way of being adjusted, thanks to the firmness of President Wilson in calling out the National Guard when Carranza threatened to attack General Pershing. The main issue is whether a President of the United States is to be assassinated, in a political sense, for defending American interests.

When President Wilson defended American interests against foreign influences did he commit political suicide? That is the question that American voters are to answer in November.

The killing of Americans on the Lusitania and several other steamers was in violation of international law and the law of humanity. President Wilson defended American interests by demanding that this sort of thing stop, and it has stopped. For this the German-American Alliance hates him and is supporting Mr. Hughes. The German-American Alliance hates the President because he defended American interests, and the Alliance is only concerned in German interests. Are the American people going to support President Wilson and American interests, or the German-American Alliance and Teutonic interests There is no issue to be determined in November that is comparable with that.

The export of munitions has been open to all buyers. Maritime conditions have been such that the allies could take advantage of this and the Germans could not. To change the law during the war in order to assist Germany against Great Britain and France and Russia would have been obviously and unquestionably an unneutral act. It would have been a violation of our obligations as neutral nation. Now the German-American Alliance hates the President for not urging Congress to stop a traffic allowed by domestic and international law, and practiced when it was a neutral by Germany. Will Americans vote against the President because he defended American instead of German interests?

Fay, who has just escaped from the Atlanta Penitentiary, and several other persons engaged in conspiracies to destroy American factories and ships carrying American exports and to make a raid from the United States upon Canada. The German Government has felt obliged on two occasions to repudiate these actions. Yet the fact that the laws of the United States, which these conspirators violated, were vindicated by the conviction of some and the indictment of others who are are awaiting trial angers the German-American Alliance which is supporting Mr. Hughes in order to punish the President of the United States for enforcing the laws thereof.

The people of the United States must choose in November between the President of the United States, who defended American interests and neutrality and enforced American laws, and the German-American Alliance. Are they going to punish Mr. Wilson because he is an American? We do not for a moment believe it.

JAIL FOR RECKLESS MOTORISTS

The Richmond Times - Dispatch says if the sentence imposed by Magistrate Puryear on the motorist who pleaded guilty to recklessly driving his car, while intoxicated, is taken as a precedent in Richmond and Henrico county, as unquestionably it deserves to be, there will be an end to this particular menace to life and limb. A day in jail is not much, but it is a day in jail, and, coupled with a $100 fine, a very different proposition from the fines it has been customary to impose in such cases.

Richmond's experience proves that fines do not deter. Usually they are small, and in almost every instance the offender is able to pay without inconvenience. Such penalties are virtual licenses to repeat the offense. On the other hand, a jail term is a real deterrent. One day can be increased to thirty days, and in aggravated cases to six months or a year—and reckless motorists know it.

Magistrate Puryear deserves public gratitude for setting his colleagues so salutary an example.

The Richmond Journal commenting upon the offense, says:

"Lucky Ross Cauthorne! Intoxicated and charged with recklessly driving his automobile through the county when in that condition, he escaped with a sentence of one day in jail, a fine of $100 and costs and a bond of $500 not to repeat his performance within a year. Of course, the fine is nothing to the rich young man; it is the one day in jail that alone counts. Had he been without means to employ a good lawyer, had he been a poor, friendless drunk, out for a lark, we shudder to think what might have been his sentence. The commonwealth's attorney contended strongly for a jail sentence, but, "in consideration of the prisoner's plea of guilty,' the trial justice made the penalty 'as light as was consistent.' But was it consistent? If this were the sole offense of the reckless and intoxicated young man we could understand the leniency. Unfortunately, it is a habit. Only last Friday, Cauthorne had his permit revoked by a Richmond police justice, who fined him twenty five dollars for drunkenness and reckless driving. Is not this proof enough of the inadequacy of the penalty imposed by Magistrate Puryear? It is evident that the twenty-five dollars' fine acted in nowise as a deterrent. Cauthorne merely changed his locale from county to city. If ever a case called for a stiff sentence this would seem to be the occasion, and since a cash penalization counts nothing, sixty or ninety days behind bars might, possibly, prove more of a restraining influence."

AUSTRIA'S PLIGHT.

As expected Roumania's first movement is to invade Transylvania that long-coveted territory wherein dwell several millions of people of similar propensities and blood sympathies. Already, it is reported, advance cavalry detachments have crossed the frontier and are pressing forward into Hungary, with a view to effecting a juncture with the Russians. Austria-Hungary is said to be in a panicky condition, and Germany evidently realizes that she will soon be fighting alone, since the dual monarchy is morally bankrupt. Montenegro and Albania are said to have revolted and thrown off Austrian domination and Bulgaria's King Ferdinand is getting ready to resign in favor of Prince Boris, who is pro-French in his sympathies.

The Richmond Journal, in sizing up the present outlook, says if Bulgaria could be assured of certain concessions on the Serbian Macedonian frontier, the government would gladly withdraw from the German alliance; it is not an improbable sequence. That would leave Turkey without a near ally and in a desperate plight. Her fatal error in joining forces with the central powers may cost her the Dardanelles and Constantinple—for Russia is grimly determined to occupy both and will give the sultan no quarter. Germany has recognized the gravity of her own plight by appointing Field Marshal von Hindenburg chief of the general staff, thereby displacing von Falkenhayn and about thirty generals who opposed, with their chief, the sending of troops to the eastern front to meet the Roumanian invasion. The kaiser sided with von Hindenburg, who urged that reinforcements be sent to Austria; hence the military shake-up. Mackensen will probably succeed von Hindenburg as chief of command of the Austro-German armies on the Russian and Roumanian fronts. With Brusiloff holding von Hindenburg's forces well in check, there is little possibility of aid reaching the army of General Koevess in Transylvania, who must retreat quickly before the Roumanians coalesce with General Letchitzky, the Russian commander in Galicia. It begins to look as if the nippers were about to close in on the Austrians. As for von Hindenburg, the septuagenarian general will need to employ all his fox-like craft to avoid a like fate for the kaiser's armies.

POPULAR FAVOR WON BY TESTS

A Few Facts in Regard to the New Medicine, Which is Now Sold Here.

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine", is being produced at the laboratories of the Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio, at the rate of nearly five million bottles a year.

The demand for Tanlac is greater than the supply. These facts constitute the record of the most popular reconstructive tonic ever offered to the people. The only explanation of Tanlac's triumph is Tanlac's merit. Only true worth could gain and sustain the reputation which Tanlac has won from the very first day the first bottle was taken from the drug store.

Back of Tanlac's triumph in the drug store stand Tanlac's triumphs in the home. It is what the neighbors say about Tanlac that counts. Advertising may sell one bottle, but the person who gets and uses that bottle is the person that sells a dozen bottles.

One person benefited by Tanlac may tell a score or even a hundred people about the medicine that helped them. People relieved from distressing and dangerous illness by Tanlac just can't keep their experiences with Tanlac to themselves, they talk about it to every friend and acquaintance.

Over a quarter of a million people have testified to Tanlac's merits and in following issues of this paper will be published what some people right here in this State say about the new medicine, which is now being sold, for one dollar per bottle, at Leadbeater Drug Corporation, Alexandria, and G. T. Mankin and Co., Falls Church.

Hoary age triumphed over young love in a pitched battle in the clerk's office at Beaver Falls, Pa., today when Caleb Smith, 96, civil war veteran, appeared with a shot gun and halted the elopement of his daughter, Miss Cynthia, 78, and Roman Williams, 92. Two charges of salt from the shot gun found lodgement in Williams. Smith had all the better of it, and forced the aged Lothario to hoist the white flag. He then took his blushing and weeping daughter and drove home. The elopement was a regular old-fashioned affair, Cynthia climbing out of a window into Roman's arms. They drove to the clerk's office in an old carriage. Caleb, discovering Cynthia's disappearance and smelling a rat, pursued them on an old mule.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Preston S. Stewart committed suicide by hanging himself in the barn at his home Wednesday at Onancock. His mind is believed to have been affected by a blow on the head received in an automobile accident about eighteen months ago. Mr. Stewart had been the agent for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company for a number of years.

E. Lee Trinkle, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Ninth Virginia district, has issued a challenge to Representative C. B. Slemp, the Republican nominee, to meet him in a joint discussion of the issues of the campaign throughout the district. He asked that Slemp meet him for the first time on the opening day of the latter's campaign. Trinkle asks for an immediate reply, which Slemp is expected to make.

Annabelle Randall, the 12 year old daughter of Mrs. Davis Green, near Centreville, Fairfax county, while on her way through the woods to carry some milk to a neighbor's sick child, was knocked down Saturday by a young negro, Sam Ewell, and only escaped severe injury by the arrival of her elder brother, who heard her cries and drove the negro off with stones. Ewell was later arrested in Prince William county.

Giles B. Jackson, colored lawyer of Richmond, headed a delegation of prominent negro citizens who called upon President Wilson a few days ago and, declaring that the Republican party had failed to carry out its "fancy promises" for the betterment of the negro race, assured him of the support of the Hannibal National Democratic League of the United States, which is made up of colored voters. An address presented to the President said: "There was a time when the Republican party put into its platform fancy promises of legislation for the protection and uplift of the negro, but those promises soon faded away, only to be revived at the next national convention. In recent years the Republican party has ceased to even mention the negro in the resolutions or the platform at its national conventions. In a majority of Southern states where the colored man constitutes a majority of the Republican vote he has been excluded from participation in the affairs of the party and a 'Lilly White' organization perfected, with the sign No Negroes Wanted.'"

SAM C. BROWN HAD VERTIGO AND WOULD FALL TO THE FLOOR

Lost Consciousness And His Family Would Have to Work Over Him For Hours.

Many wonderful indorsements have been given Dreco, but what is probably the most remarkable is the one given recently by Sam C. Brown of 1032 Argyle Ave. Baltimore, Md. He says: "For years I suffered with something like vertigo, and had a dizzy, swimming sensation in my head, and of all the people I ever saw or heard of with this trouble, I never knew a case as severe as mine. When one of those spells would strike me I would loose consciousness and fall to the ground. I would have to be stripped and rubbed for hours, and my folks thinking all the time that every breath would be my last. I don't know what brought on these attacks but I also suffered with stomach and bowel trouble, and it might have been due to that. My bowels would frequently lock and I would go four or five days in this condition. No one on earth ever knew how I suffered, I, myself cannot describe it. I tried to describe it to the doctors but they didn't seem to understand my case. After consulting several and taking their medicines I was told the only chance I had to live was to build up my constitution so I could wear it out. That's a sketch of my condition when I began taking Dreco. I am really unable to tell how much good the first bottle did me. I havn't had a single attack of vertigo since, my bowels move regularly and normally, my appetite is good and my food digests perfectly. Nervousness has disappeared and I am getting stronger and growing flesh every day, and to prove to you what I think of Dreco if I knew there was no more to be had I would not take $100 for this bottle I've just paid $1.00 for."

Dreco is sold at Allen's Drug Store in Alexandria.

Attributing her many years of good health to the fact that she has never worn a corset in her life, Mrs. Lottie G. Wiltbank, of Georgetown, Del., celebrated her 90th birthday yesterday. Mrs. Wiltbank has had but very few sick days in her life, and at present enjoys the use of all her senses, being able to read and hear as well as any one.

A bomb filled with small shot were exploded yesterday in the basement stock room of a paper box factory, in New York, in which 40 girls are employed. No one was injured. The factory is not involved in the strike of paper box factory employes but members of the firm alleged that a number of their employes had which has been on for several weeks, been intimidated by strike pickets.
